DRAFT BILL IS APPROVED IN COMMITTEE

Today's Vote Puts Issue For Selective Service Formally Before Congress

CITE NEED OF U. M. T.

Washington, May 3—(AP)—The house armed services committee today approved 28 to 5 a two-year draft bill.

The vote puts the issue for selective service formally before congress for the first time since the war. The measure calls for the nation's first peacetime draft. Before voting, the committee restated the measure "excellent," heard Secretary of Defense For-

"There is an immediate and imperative demand for something to augment the size of our armed forces," he said. "This bill provides it."

Chairman Andrews (R-NY) called the committee and Secretary of the Army Royal in for a final look at the measure before a formal committee vote. Royal said it is "thoroughly acceptable to all the services" army, navy and air force.

They did not ask that the committee put in any provision for limited training of 18-year-olds, but Forrestal emphasized that he still believes universal military training is needed.

Andrews has been assured by house leaders that the bill will be called up for debate next week.

As the committee gathered, there was a possibility that one of its members might try to hook a delayed-action universal military training amendment onto the draft bill when it goes before the house. Other members did not think much of this idea.

Andrews stood on the sidelines for this argument. He said the only thing on his mind right now is getting the draft measure out of the committee's hands and onto the floor.

These are the bill's principle provisions:

1. It would raise the total authorized manpower of the armed forces to 2,005,882—army 837,000, air force 502,000, and navy and marine corps 666,882. The present total strength is 1,384,500.

2. Men 18 through 30 would be registered, with those from 19 through 25 liable for two years' service. Men in the 19-26 group could enlist voluntarily in the regular army for two years, but in no other service.

3. Most veterans would be exempt from service, but those under 31 would have to register.

4. Industrial plants could be seized by the government if they refused to give top priorities to armament orders, or if they did not provide equipment at what the secretary of defense considered reasonable prices.

5. Doctors up to 45 years old could be drafted for two years' service.

6. Ministers, divinity students and some conscientious objectors would be exempt from service. Objectors willing to perform non-combatant service would be inducted for such service only.

7. Deferments for schooling, dependency, and occupation would be determined by the president.

8. The law would expire two years after it went into effect.

POPE ASKS SPECIAL PRAYERS FOR PEACE

Vatican City, May 3—(AP)—Pope Pius XII has asked for special prayers during May for the "happy triumph of peace" in Palestine.

The pope's plea was in a letter to Roman Catholic bishops of the world, dated May 1 and made public today.

This encyclical also asked for prayer for the return of "mutual peace, fraternal and full among all men, and the desired concord between all social classes."

Hughes Readies Eight Or Nine Million For New Venture

Hollywood, May 3—(AP)—Howard Hughes, who does things in the grand manner, has readied another eight or nine million dollars to sink into a new venture.

The shy, reserved 43-year-old bachelor who developed an oil tool business into a vast fortune, branched into movie production, got out of it and into the airplane business, has taken an option to purchase control of RKO studios.

Not content with boasting one of the world's biggest commercial airlines and building and flying experimental planes, Hughes has tonight announced that he had reached a tentative agreement with Floyd Odom for the purchase of the latter's 928,000 shares of RKO stock.

Taft And Stassen Wind-up Battle For Ohio Delegates

Cleveland, May 3—(AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft and Harold E. Stassen wind up their Ohio delegate battle today amid signs that the outcome may sway early GOP presidential balloting at Philadelphia.

Both candidates planned last hour appeals over state-wide radio hookups tonight in their contest for 23 of Ohio's 53 presidential nominating votes.

Both camps expressed confidence in the results when upwards of 700,000 Republicans go to the polls in tomorrow's primary.

Politicians were watching the outcome for its possible effect on foot-loose delegations from such states as Illinois and Pennsylvania, where the bloom of favorite sons might fade quickly.

From the Taft camp came reports that a majority of the 50-vote Illinois group is ready to congregate to support Taft at the national convention.

In fact, some of the Taft followers are predicting the Ohioan can have 51 on the first ballot, despite previous plans to back Gov. Dwight Green as a favorite son.

Edward Strohm, Jr., was shot to death at Harrisburg Sunday when he stepped in front of a rifle his father was using to shoot at targets.

David Edward Keefover, 3 of Riversville, W. Va., was killed Sunday when he fell out of a truck driven by his father near Uniontown.

Raymond Redmond, 34, drowned Sunday at Scranton when his car went out of control, plunged down an embankment and overturned in lower Mehoopany creek.

Ralph McKay, 51, Jamestown, died Saturday in Jamestown hospital of injuries suffered when his motorcycle hit a bump in the road and threw him into the path of an oncoming car.

Louis Spielman, 22 of Pottstown, was killed Sunday at Reading when his motorcycle collided with an automobile.

Eisenhowers Move Into New Home On Morningside Drive

New York, May 3—(AP)—New tenants today occupied a four-story brick house at 60 Morningside Drive—Gen. and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The neighbors didn't waste any time about getting acquainted. When the General and Mrs. Eisenhower strode up to the front door of their new "civilian" home yesterday there were 200 folks from "next door and across the street to say 'hello'."

"Welcome to Morningside Heights," shouted one woman. "We're your new neighbors," cried another.

Greeting broadly, General Ike waved his cap as the crowd closed in. He spotted a soldier in the throng, and called out: "I see you're from the 71st. My son was in that outfit."

The two shook hands. Although Eisenhower still wore his uniform, he said his goodbyes to the Army yesterday at Fort Myer, Va., before driving here, where he is to take over as president of Columbia University June 7.

Mrs. Eisenhower carried a bouquet of yellow roses presented to her by the Fort Myer personnel.

As their car, driven by Master Sergeant Leonard Dry, pulled to the curb in front of their new home on the Columbia Campus, photographers gathered.

The 21-room house into which the Eisenhowers moved is the official residence of the Columbia president. Reporters were invited inside the foyer briefly on condition they would only ask questions about the couple's seven-hour drive to New York City.

REPORT SAYS INVASION OF PALESTINE ON

Jews Insist, In Face Of Denials, That Syrian And Lebanese Armies Are On the Move

TRUCE IS QUESTIONED

Jerusalem, May 3—(AP)—Jews insisted today, in the face of denials, that Syrian and Lebanese armies have invaded northern Palestine.

The British rushed soldiers back into the country to deal with what they called a "serious deteriorated" situation, less than two weeks before the May 15 date they have set to end their rule.

They guarded a new 48-hour truce between Jews and Arabs in the southern Katamon quarter of Jerusalem while they negotiated for a truce to cover the whole city and its Christian, Jewish and Moslem Shrines.

The truce, enforced by the High-Light Infantry, apparently was being respected; its spirit was evident all over Jerusalem. Not a single shot was heard today from within the city, either in the new or in the old quarters. Sporadic fighting was audible from some outer suburbs.

The first British reinforcements were an estimated 1,000 soldiers in full battle dress who reached Haifa yesterday from Cyprus aboard the troopship Empire Test.

Before that, competent sources had estimated British strength in Palestine at 25,000 troops, including skeleton armored and gun forces. The British army has been shipping out under a pledge to be gone by Aug. 1.

Official sources in Amman, Trans-Jordan said Thursday Trans-Jordan, Syria, Lebanon, Egypt and Iraq would send at least 30,000 regulars to "rescue Palestine before May 15."

The strength of the Jewish militia is estimated unofficially at 53,000 and that of the Jewish underground Irgun Zavi Leumi and Stern group together at 25,000 to 7,000.

Lake Success, May 3—(AP)—United Nations action was expected today on emergency measures to save Jerusalem from the growing conflict in Palestine.

The U. N. Trusteeship Council is to vote on an American proposal to place the Holy City under a temporary U. N. trusteeship.

The council also is expected to vote a cease-fire for the old walled portion of Jerusalem.

The measure was designed to protect Jerusalem's places until a general settlement can be reached for all of Palestine.

FEDERAL JUDGES WILL STAY DESPITE AGE

Pittsburgh, May 3—(AP)—Two federal district court judges here have announced they will remain on the bench despite their eligibility to receive pensions. Both Robert M. Gibson and Nelson McVicar are 78.

The announcement highlighted a complaint by Representative Francis E. Walter, Benton Democrat, that his bill to increase the federal bench here had been pigeonholed. Walter introduced the bill in 1946 to relieve a reported backlog of cases in the local court. He said this situation came about because of the advanced ages and ill healths of Judges McVicar and Gibson.

The judges, stating they were up to date in their work as of last Saturday, said they "were going to plug along as usual."

Packers Report A Return to Work

Chicago, May 3—(AP)—Packers reported back-to-work trickle of strikers in the six-week-old strike of CIO-Packaging Workers, but there were increased numbers of pickets at plant gates today.

Non-strikers passed through the lines without incident this morning as police stood by alert.

CIO officials said that none of the workers who entered the Chicago plants today risked replacement by other workers. Police Capt. Raymond Crane said he has ordered almost 1,000 policemen on duty at the plants.

ELECTION WITHIN 30 DAYS AT SOLAR PLANT

Washington, May 3—(AP)—The National Labor Relations Board ordered today an election within 30 days to determine the bargaining agency for employees of the Solar Electric Corporation, Warren, Pa.

The election was ordered on a petition filed by Agnes E. Fisher, an employee of the company. She contended that the CIO's United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers Union no longer is the representative of its plant workers.

Record Flood Control Plan Is Proposed

Washington, May 3—(AP)—A record $640,253,200 program for flood control and navigation projects comes up in the senate this week, with a floor fight assured.

Debate may begin today or tomorrow, and three appropriations committee members are planning to urge a $200,000,000 slash.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD) of the appropriations subcommittee on army civil functions leads supporters of the $640,253,200 outlay, which is $101,377,900 more than the house voted two months ago for the year beginning July 1.

Heading the opposition are Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the full appropriations committee and Senators Ferguson (R-Mich) and Reed (R-Kan).

The three signed a minority report serving notice they will seek to have the senate return the bill to committee with instructions to cut off $200,000,000.

If their motion prevails, the senate committee also would be instructed to let the army engineers decide how the remaining money would be allotted among projects.

The engineers would be asked to base their recommendations on urgency, long range importance, completion with reasonable appropriations, and financial assistance by states or municipalities.

The proposed $200,000,000 reduction plan was endorsed by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce yesterday in letters sent to all senators.

As recommended by the Gurney subcommittee and approved 16 to 3 by the full senate appropriations committee, the bill would allow $195,084,400 for 94 river and harbor projects and $445,168,800 for 279 flood control projects.

The total is $25,415,800 less than the amount requested by President Truman in January, but $224,699,675 more than the record $415,553,525 appropriated for the current 12 month period.

FATALLY BEATEN

Pittsburgh, May 3—(AP)—John F. Flynn, 69-year-old retired street car operator, died last night from a beating administered by the police. Police said Flynn was attacked from behind while walking on an east end street. They added that his assailants, who struck him in the head, escaped with $20 and a $50 watch. Flynn, who never recovered consciousness, died about 18 hours after the beating.

Step Taken Toward Clearing Way For Dam on East Branch

Another big step toward clearing the way for erection of Chapman Dam on the East Branch of Tionesta Creek near Clarendon has been taken, it was disclosed today.

State Senator L. E. Chapman, the dam, said all deeds to the properties involved have been turned over to the state and that he and Rep. Allen Gibson of Sheffield are keeping a close watch on the progress of the project.

The legislature has appropriated $150,000 for the work. Sen. Chapman said the state department of Properties and Supplies plans to advertise for bids, probably early in June, and that an early start on the construction work is envisioned.

The dam, to be located in the beautiful Tionesta creek valley west of Clarendon, will create an artificial lake extending from Old Clarendon to primarily intended as an outdoors recreation center for the district but it also will have great value in flood control.

Honorary Degree For Dr. Chapman

A high honor will be accorded Dr. L. E. Chapman of Warren, state senator from Warren and Venango counties by Temple University at completion exercises of the day.

College President Robert L. Johnson announced that an honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters will be presented Dr. Chapman in recognition of his "distinguished contribution to the welfare of humanity."

Dr. Chapman is widely known for his efforts to have the state establish cancer control and research facilities.

County Music Pupils Score High at Meet

Warren county music students came to the fore again in the Pennsylvania Music and Forensic League competition when state finals were held over the weekend in Oil City.

Highest rating given any local pupil was a "superior" rating accorded by Judge Elba Goranson, of Jamestown, N. Y., to Norman Haight, alto soloist, of Youngsville, pupil of Mrs. Ray Smith, Warren. Norma, well known to the younger set in Warren, took first place in the district contest held recently at Clarion, and the "superior" rating given her rich contralto voice at Oil City in competition with state-wide pupils is a genuine distinction.

Several "excellent" ratings came to other county contestants. These were given to Jackmer, Sheffield high school, tuba soloist; Teresa Slater, of the same school, tenor saxophone player; Mary Alice Vanman, Pine Grove township high school at Russell, baritone saxophone.

Woman Claims Record For Driving Longest

South Pasadena, Calif., May 3—(AP)—Mrs. Jessica P. Merrill says she guesses she can claim the record for driving an automobile longer than any other woman.

"If any woman has been driving since 1897, I bow," says the 69-year-old former antique dealer, "but I drove my ton. He was an inventor of father's 1898 one-cylinder Winfarm machinery and factory equipment. People used to flee the streets when they saw me driving."

Mrs. Merrill is driving a 21-year-old Essex but she plans to go east and get a new car.

Parcel Post Bomb Causes One Death

Wolverhampton, England, May 3—(AP)—A parcel bomb addressed to Capt. Roy Farran, acquitted of killing a Jewish boy in Palestine, exploded today, killing his brother, Rex Farran, 26.

The bomb, enclosed in a copy of Shakespeare's plays, was delivered at the Farran home this morning. Young Farran was alone in the house. The explosion shattered windows.

Police said the parcel was mailed in England. The inside of the book had been cut out to make room for the bomb.

The Jewish youth, Alexander Rubowitz, 18, disappeared last May 6. The Stern Gang, Jewish underground organization in Palestine, claimed him as a member. The military court which acquitted Roy Farran ruled that Rubowitz had not been proved dead. He was abducted while posing as a recruit for the Jewish underground. The prosecution based its case largely on a light gray hat which it said was found nearby and bore the name Farran.

Sen. Taylor Faces Charge In Birmingham

Birmingham, Ala., May 3—(AP)—Sen. Glen Taylor (D-Idaho) running mate for Henry Wallace on the third party ticket, faces a charge of disorderly conduct at a hearing set for Tuesday night in police court here.

Taylor was arrested Saturday night as he sought to enter a meeting of the Southern Negro Youth Congress in a negro church. He was fingerprinted and released in $100 bond.

The charges against the third party vice presidential candidate stemmed from Birmingham's racial segregation laws.

Patrolman W. W. Casey said he stopped Taylor from entering the church through an entrance used by negroes and told him to use another entrance set aside for white persons.

The senator, however, attempted to brush past him, the patrolman said.

Taylor left here Sunday afternoon for Washington because of what he termed "urgent senate business." He said he would return Tuesday in time to face charges "illegally pressed against me."

In a statement before leaving Taylor said "my arrest and manhandling is a blatant violation of my constitutional right. The local segregation ordinance is unconstitutional and we are prepared to carry this test to the United States supreme court."

Meanwhile in Kansas City yesterday, Wallace said the arrest of Taylor dramatizes the hypocrisy of spending billions in the name of freedom abroad while freedom is trampled here at home.

Seek Formula To Avert Rail Strike

Chicago, May 3—(AP)—Representatives of the nation's railroads and three unions were called to another peace conference today to avert the threatened crippling strike, set for May 11.

Frank P. Douglas, chairman of the National (Railway) Mediation Board hinted Saturday that a formula for settling the month-old dispute might be found.

When the talks were recessed for the week-end, Douglas said he had found "a sincere disposition on the part of both sides to try to find a settlement." He added, however, that neither side is in favor of further arbitration and that direct negotiations appeared to offer the only hope.

After exhausting all remedies provided in the Railway Labor Act for settlement, the three unions set May 11 as the strike date for their 100,000 members. They are insisting on a wage increase of 30 per cent with a minimum raise of $3 a day and changes in working rules.

SEVEN MIDWEST STATES ARE LASHED BY TWISTERS DURING WEEKEND; HOSPITALS FILLED

By The Associated Press
Tornadoes and violent windstorms whipped across seven states over the weekend, killing at least 21 persons and injuring more than 160.

Property damage was estimated in the millions. West Virginia and Kentucky communities were lashed by tornadoes last night. Twisters hit in Missouri, Oklahoma and Kansas Saturday. High winds and heavy rains occurred in Indiana and Illinois.

The death toll by states: West Virginia—six; Kentucky—two; Oklahoma—five; Missouri—three; Kansas—two; Illinois—one.

The bomb, enclosed in a copy of Shakespeare's plays, was delivered at the Farran home this morning. Young Farran was alone in the house. The explosion shattered windows.

28th Division Prepares For Summer Recruiting Campaign

Indianapolis, May 3—(AP)—The 28th Division prepared today for a new recruiting drive aimed at adding nearly 1,700 men and officers to the present strength of the National Guard unit.

Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, division commander, said the drive will get under way on May 10 and extend until June 20 when it is hoped to have the division at full strength of 10,500 officers and men.

"We might be mobilized at any time," said Strickler in announcing plans for the drive. "We don't know what's going to happen in Europe at the present time."

He added that those authorized to lead the recruiting drive should "get as many men as you can to sign up."

Three drive units will be conducted by three different groups, according to plans announced by Strickler.

First, every officer and enlisted man now in the National Guard unit will be designated as a one man unit to go out and get new recruits.

Second, five teams of not less than three men each, will be formed to go out and contact potential recruits.

Third, each unit will be required to select five civilian teams, of at least three men each, to supplement the recruiting drive.

Strickler also announced that the division will hold its annual summer encampment at this sprawling military reservation during the two week period from Aug. 14 to 28.

REPORT SAYS INVASION OF PALESTINE ON

Jews Insist, In Face Of Denials, That Syrian and Lebanese Armies Are On the Move

TRUCE IS QUESTIONED

Jerusalem, May 3—(P)—Jews insisted today, in the face of denials, that Syrian and Lebanese armies have invaded northern Palestine.

The British rushed soldiers back into the country to deal with what they called a "serious deteriorated" situation, less than two weeks before the May 15 date they have set to end their rule.

They guarded a new 48-hour truce between Jews and Arabs in the southern Katamon quarter of Jerusalem while they negotiated for a truce to cover the whole city and its Christian, Jewish and Moslem shrines.

The truce, enforced by the Highland Light Infantry apparently was being respected. Its spirit was evident all over Jerusalem. Not a single shot was heard today from within the city, either in the new or in the old quarters. Sporadic fighting was audible from some outer suburbs.

The first British reinforcements were an estimated 1,000 soldiers in Jordan, Syria, Lebanon, Egypt and Iraq would send at least 30,000 regulars to "rescue Palestine before May 15."

The strength of the Jewish militia is estimated unofficially at 53,000 and that of the Jewish underground Irgun Zavi Leumi and Stern group together at 25,000 to 7,000.

Lake Success, May 3—(P)—United Nations action was expected today on emergency measures to save Jerusalem from the growing conflict in Palestine.

The U. N. Trusteeship Council is to vote on an American proposal to place the Holy City under a temporary U. N. trusteeship.

The council also is expected to vote a cease-fire for the old walled portion of Jerusalem.

These measures are designed to protect Jerusalem's places until a general settlement can be reached for all of Palestine.

FEDERAL JUDGES WILL STAY DESPITE AGE

Pittsburgh, May 3—(P)—Two federal district court judges here have announced they will remain on the bench despite their eligibility to receive pensions. Both Robert M. Gibson and Nelson McVicar are 78.

The announcement highlighted a complaint by Representative Francis E. Walter, Easton Democrat, that his bill to increase the federal bench here had been pigeonholed. Walter introduced the bill in 1946 to relieve a reported backlog of cases in the local court. He said this situation came about because of the advanced ages and ill health of Judges McVicar and Gibson.

The judges, stating they were up to date in their work as of last Saturday, said they "were going to plug along as usual."

Packers Report A Return to Work

Chicago, May 3—(P)—Packers reported by a back-to-work trickle of strikers in the six-week-old strike of CIO-Packhouse Workers, but there were increased numbers of pickets at plant gates today.

Non-strikers passed through the lines without incident this morning as police stood by alert.

CIO officials said that none of the workers who entered the struck plants were members of the Packhouse Workers.

The four major packers, Swift, Wilson, Armour and Cudahy announced that they have increased the pay of all plant employees nine cents an hour.

The companies announced several days ago that any strikers who fail to report for duty in the Chicago plants today risk replacement by other workers.

Police Capt. Raymond Crane said he has ordered almost 1,000 policemen on duty at the plants.

ELECTION WITHIN 30 DAYS AT SOLAR PLANT

Washington, May 3—(P)—The National Labor Relations Board ordered today an election within 30 days to determine the bargaining agency for employees of the Solar Electric Corporation, Warren, Pa.

The election was ordered on a petition filed by Agnes I. Flasher, an employee of the company.

She contended that the CIO's United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers Union no longer is the representative of the plant workers.

Record Flood Control Plan Is Proposed

Washington, May 3—(P)—A record $640,253,200 program for flood control and navigation projects came up in the senate this week, with a floor fight assured.

Debate may begin today or tomorrow, and three appropriations committee members are planning to urge a $200,000,000 slash.

Chairman Gurney (R-S.D.) of the appropriations subcommittee on army civil functions leads supporters of the $640,253,200 outlay, which is $101,377,000 more than the house voted two months ago for the year beginning July 1.

Heading the opposition are Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the full appropriations committee and Senators Ferguson (R-Mich) and Reed (R-Kan.).

The three signed a minority report serving notice they will seek to have the senate return the bill to committee with instructions to cut off $200,000,000.

If their motion prevails, the senate committee also would be instructed to let the army engineers decide how the remaining money would be allotted among projects.

The engineers would be asked to base their recommendations on urgency, long range importance, completion with reasonable appropriations, and financial assistance by states or municipalities.

The proposed $200,000,000 reduction plan was endorsed by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce yesterday in letters sent to all senators.

As recommended by the Gurney subcommittee and approved 16 to 3 by the full senate appropriations committee, the bill would allow $195,084,400 for river and harbor projects and $445,168,800 for flood control projects.

The total is $25,415,800 less than the amount requested by President Truman in January, but $224,699,675 more than the record $455,553,525 appropriated for the current 12 month period.

INJURED BY ELEPHANT

McKeesport, May 3—(P)—Robert Yednak, 9, was treated yesterday for a possible broken shoulder, suffered when a circus elephant picked the boy up and tossed him to the ground. Robert and several companions were watching a circus crew put up tents when the elephant seized the boy.

FATALLY BEATEN

Pittsburgh, May 3—(P)—John F. Flynn, 69-year-old retired street car operator, died last night from a beating administered by thugs. Police said Flynn was attacked from behind while walking on an east end street. They added that his assailants, who struck him in the head, escaped with $20 and a $50 watch. Flynn, who never recovered consciousness, died about 18 hours after the beating.

Step Taken Toward Clearing Way For Dam on East Branch

Another big step toward clearing the way for erection of Chapman Dam on the East Branch of Tionesta Creek near Clarendon has been taken, it was disclosed today.

State Senator L. E. Chapman, after whom the legislature named the dam, said all deeds to the properties involved have been turned over to the state and that he and Rep. Allen Gibson of Sheffield are keeping a close watch on the progress of the project.

The legislature has appropriated $150,000 for the work. Sen. Chapman said the State Department of Properties and Supplies plans to advertise for bids, probably early in June, and that an early start on the construction work is envisioned.

The dam, to be located in the beautiful Tionesta creek valley west of Clarendon, will create an artificial lake extending from Old Clarendon to the state game preserve. It is primarily intended as an outdoor recreation center for the district but it also will have great value in flood control.

Dr. Chapman is widely known for his efforts to have the state establish cancer control and research facilities.

Honorary Degree For Dr. Chapman

A high honor will be accorded Dr. L. E. Chapman of Warren, state senator from Warren and Venango counties by Temple University at commencement exercises of that Philadelphia school on Thursday, June 17.

College President Robert L. Johnson announced that an honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters will be presented Dr. Chapman in recognition of his "distinguished contribution to the welfare of humanity."

Dr. Chapman is widely known for his efforts to have the state establish cancer control and research facilities.

County Music Pupils Score High at Meet

Warren county music students came to the fore again in the Pennsylvania Music and Forensic League competition when state finals were held over the weekend in Oil City.

Highest rating given any local pupil was a "superior" rating accorded by Judge Ebba Goranson of Jamestown, N. Y., to Norman Haight, alto soloist, of Youngsville, pupil of Mrs. Ray Smith, Warren. Norma, well known to the younger set in Warren, took first place in the district contest held recently at Clarion, and the "superior" rating given her rich contralto voice at Oil City in competition with state-wide pupils is a genuine distinction.

Several "excellent" ratings came to other county contestants. These were Keith Blackmer, Sheffield high school, tuba soloist; Teresa Slater, of the same school, tenor saxophone player; Mary Alice Venman, Pine Grove township high school, piano; and Russell, baritone saxophone.

Woman Claims Record For Driving Longest

South Pasadena, Calif., May 3—(P)—Mrs. Jessica P. Merville says she guesses she can claim the record for driving an automobile longer than any other woman.

"If any woman has been driving since 1897, I bow," says the 69-year-old former antique dealer, "but I drove my ton. He was an inventor of father's 1898 one-cylinder Winfarm machinery and factory equipment. People used to flee the streets when they saw me driving."

Mrs. Merville is driving a 21-year-old Essex, but she plans to go east and get a new car.

Parcel Post Bomb Causes One Death

Wolver Hampton, England, May 3—(P)—A parcel bomb addressed to Capt. Roy Farran, acquitted of killing a Jewish boy in Palestine, exploded today, killing his brother, Roy Farran, 25.

The bomb, enclosed in a copy of Shakespeare's plays, was delivered at the Farran home this morning.

Young Farran was alone in the house. The explosion shattered windows.

Police said the parcel was mailed in England. The inside of the book had been cut away to make room for the bomb.

The Jewish youth, Alexander Rubowitz, 18, disappeared last May 6. The Stern Gang, Jewish underground organization in Palestine, claimed him as a member. The military court which acquitted Roy Farran ruled that Rubowitz had not been proved dead. He was abducted while posting signs for the Jewish underground. The prosecution based its case largely on a light gray hat which it said was found nearby and bore the name Farran.

Long lines of automobiles seeking to reach the leveled town of Hupp Hill found U. S. Route 19 blocked by parts of homes, wrecked automobiles, three and debris from nearby strip-mining operations. Only ambulances, utility and rescue workers, and police made their way through.

First of the dead to be identified were Wayman Taylor, about 30, and Maggie Metzgar, 45. Both died after being brought to a hospital. Taylor's wife and one of the children—a 5-year-old son who was found under eight inches of mud with only an arm protruding—were reported in critical condition. Another boy was reported missing.

The storm struck at 9 p. m. last night. Throughout this morning the search for victims continued amid rain-beaten hills and flattened farmhouses.

A 240-pound farmer told how he was blown for 100 feet.

"I was asleep when my wife heard the roar and awakened me," he continued. "When I tried to open the kitchen door the house was blown away." A war veteran said the ruin and the lightning-punctuated darkness reminded him of "a portion of the shell-ridden Huerfuen forest."

Shortly after the first alarms at least three homes were reported ablaze at Mount Clare. Broken gas lines were also said to be ignited.

Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, division commander, said the drive will get under way on May 10 and extend until June 20 when it is hoped to have the division at full strength of 10,500 officers and men.

"We might be mobilized at any time," said Strickler in announcing plans for the drive. "We don't know what's going to happen in Europe at the present time."

He added that those authorized to lead the recruiting drive should "get as many men as you can to sign up."

DRIVE TO RESCIND FINE ON MINE UNION

Assortment Of Violations Keeps Cops Busy on Weekend

Two automobile collisions, the first within 15 minutes after the start of the new month, highlighted the department of police activities over the weekend. Other activities included the apprehension of an allegedly stolen car together with the alleged thief and the catching of two men who were engaged in stealing a radio from a car parked at the Swanson Tire Shop parking lot.

The usual assortment of family fights, drunks, noisy small boys were also handled in the routine police manner.

John Helman, of Akeley RD 1, and Robert J. Brower, 852 West Fifth avenue, were surprised by police at 2:45 o'clock Saturday morning while allegedly in the act of removing a radio and sun visor in a car parked at Swanson Tire Shop. They will be given a hearing before Justice Tracy M. Greenlund on a charge of burglary and larceny tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

William Barr, 106 West First street, Oil City, was apprehended by city police early Saturday morning driving a 1947 Chevrolet car belonging to W. A. Mieland of Tidoute. Mieland telephoned police that his car had been stolen.

Following the call, police first noticed Barr at Pennsylvania avenue near Lacy street and they pursued him to Pennsylvania avenue and Second before forcing him to stop. Barr told police that a friend had given him permission to borrow a car and that he took the wrong automobile by mistake. He was turned over to Tidoute authorities where he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Lodge on Saturday afternoon on a charge of larceny of an automobile. Following the hearing, Barr was committed to Warren county jail by Justice Lodge, to appear at the next term of court.

At 12:15 a. m. Saturday morning, cars operated by Cecil L.

Weller, 1 Mohawk avenue, and Milton R. Olson, 101 Averill street, came together at Pennsylvania and Oak street when Weller pulled out of Oak street in front of the Olson car, which was proceeding east. Damage to the two vehicles is estimated at $275. Weller was arrested by city police on a charge of reckless driving.

Yesterday evening at 8:25 o'clock a car operated by Walter A. Rhoades, of Clarendon, was struck in the rear by another car operated by Mrs. Charlotte M. Grasser, of Cleveland, O. when Rhoades stopped for a traffic light on Pennsylvania avenue.

Write-in votes on local voting machines.

From conversation with several local voters since the primary elections this week the writer believes that he is just one of many local people who have not been well enough informed concerning the operation of our voting machines. These machines are reported "to be able to register any vote that can be put on a paper ballot," but the writer, after having used them here all the years (10 or more) they have been installed in Warren County, did not find out until after this election just how to make a "write-in" vote for a candidate. How many more of you are in the same lot? People of both major parties have told me that, the same as I, "they did not know of the slots at the top of the voting machine, nor how to open those slots to make a "write-in" vote. I have heard of several otherwise smart people who were absolutely confused after stepping into the voting booth, and lost their vote entirely either through not making it, or a technicality concerning some letters and figures to accompany such names as they wished to vote for. It is also reported that some of the party workers, who are supposed to be informed on such matters, could not explain this angle of voting when questioned by citizens who came to vote at their respective voting precincts.

Even, may we all have a thorough, plain explanation of these operations in your paper, and again, may we have this explained just before our next election whether it is the coming general election or a primary or special contest.

Sacred Concert by Scottish Rite Choir Greatly Enjoyed

The First Presbyterian church was filled to capacity Sunday evening, when over 200 visiting Sir Knights in uniform joined members of Warren Commandery No. 63, Knights Templar, in its observance of Ascension Day. The congregation assembled for the vesper service was estimated at 1,800.

The highlight of the service was the sacred concert given by the 40-voice Scottish Rite choir, of Erie Commandery, under the capable direction of W. O. Strong, and accompanied by William A. Richards at the console. The choir's numbers were greatly appreciated by all present at the church and by many others who enjoyed the broadcasts given over AM and PM facilities of WNAE.

Following the vesper service, the choir members, visiting Sir Knights and their ladies were entertained in the social rooms of the Masonic Temple Refreshments were served by a committee, assisted by members of the Ladies Auxiliary, all under the direction of Harold A. Ross.

Among the distinguished knights present were Levi B. Taylor, of Sharon, grand generalissimo of the Grand Commandery of Pennsylvania; James M. Martin, Meadville, commander of Division 12; James M. Deeter, St. Marys, commander of Division 10; Joseph L. Hinne-man, Bradford, district deputy of the Grand Council, Royal and Select Masters; William E. Yeager, Warren, deputy grand master of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, Free and Accepted Masons.

In addition to these officers, commanderies of Knights Templar of Bradford, Erie, Franklin, Oil City, Jamestown, Meadville, Ridgway and Titusville were represented.

High praise was voiced by out of town visitors for the many courtesies extended by Burgess William Crossett and members of the local police department, in arrangements for the parade from the Masonic Temple to the church.

The visitors were also highly impressed with the sacred selections played by the High School Dragon Band, under the direction of Harry Summers in the processional to the church.

Sacred Concert by Scottish Rite Choir Greatly Enjoyed

The First Presbyterian church was filled to capacity Sunday evening, when over 200 visiting Sir Knights in uniform joined members of Warren Commandery No. 63, Knights Templar, in its observance of Ascension Day. The congregation assembled for the vesper service was estimated at 1,800.

The highlight of the service was the sacred concert given by the 40-voice Scottish Rite choir, of Erie Commandery, under the capable direction of W. O. Strong, and accompanied by William A. Richards at the console. The choir's numbers were greatly appreciated by all present at the church and the broadcasts given over AM and PM facilities of WNAE.

Following the vesper service, the choir members, visiting Sir Knights and their ladies were entertained in the social rooms of the Masonic Temple. Refreshments were served by a committee, assisted by members of the Ladies Auxiliary, all under the direction of Harold A. Ross.

Among the distinguished knights present were Levi B. Taylor, of Sharon, grand generalissimo of the Grand Commandery of Pennsylvania; James M. Martin, Meadville, commander of Division 12; James M. Dwyer, St. Marys, commander of Division 10; Joseph L. Hinnebrad, Bradford, district deputy of the Grand Council, Royal and Select Masters; William E. Yeager, Warren, deputy grand master of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, Free and Accepted Masons.

In addition to these officers, commanderies of Knights Templar of Bradford, Erie, Franklin, Oil City, Jamestown, Meadville, Ridgway and Titusville were represented.

High praise was voiced by out of town visitors for the many courtesies extended by Burgess William Cressett and members of the local police department, in arrangements for the parade from the Masonic Temple to the church. The visitors were also highly impressed with the sacred selections played by the High School Dragon Band, under the direction of Harry Summers in the processional to the church.

Always Mother

Edwin Arnold eulogized our Mothers, explaining that God invented Mothers because He "Can't be always everywhere."

Coleridge expressed the beautiful thought that a good Mother is the "holiest thing alive."

Faithful, unselfish and patient is Mother love and her prayers for her children continue when the world despairs. We see her whispering "Happy Dreams" to the child, rejoicing in the man's successes.

Let us honor our Mothers for their great work.

KING ABDULLAH

"I have advised the Jews before to content themselves and live as citizens in an Arab state. If they refuse to do so, then I am an Arab king of an Arab state and my army is an Arab army. I shall do as I please."

Thus spoke His Majesty King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan. Abdullah has only been king since 1946, when his country, by grace of the British government, gained its independence. His kingdom is no great shakes. It is about as big as the state of Indiana, and its population is about that of Indiana's capital city. Most of the country is desert, and most of its inhabitants are nomads. But Abdullah talks as if he were king of half the world.

His talk might seem funny, but it isn't. Maybe he rules over a poor, scrubby land inhabited by poor, scrubby people.

But the sad part of it is that when he said "I shall do as I please," nobody was in an effective position to tell him to hush up and go stand in a corner. For he apparently was rattling his sword and playing Napoleon with the permission and approval of five other Arab governments. And these governments' armies, though neither very numerous nor very formidable by modern standards, are bigger than anything than stands in their way today, says James Thrasher, NEA editorial writer.

Thus far, fighting in Palestine has come under the legalistic heading of communal warfare. But an Arab invasion is aggression against what is still British territory. It is, briefly and clearly, an act of war. And it puts the whole matter more securely in the lap of the Security Council.

Since there is no UN police force, and since the member governments show little inclination to provide forces voluntarily, a try at mediation seems to be the logical prescription.

It was rumored two months ago that King Abdullah was willing to let the Jews set up their own government in Palestine if he could absorb the rest of Palestine into Trans-Jordan and also get a UN membership. The rumor died, but such a solution seems as good as any.

Abdullah may be a little too ambitious for the taste of some of his Moslem colleagues. He is said to be on bad terms with the exiled Grand Mufti of Jerusalem and also with King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia. But if their differences could be settled, the compromise solution might be possible.

There is little doubt that a plebiscite would find the Palestine Arabs willing to become part of Trans-Jordan. There remains, then, the Arab insistence that there shall be no Jewish state in the Holy Land.

So long as there is no threat of force behind any UN efforts toward mediation, that insistence is more than a bluff. But if the Security Council could agree long enough to assemble some military power, it might be that Abdullah and the rest of the Arab League would find that it was impossible to compromise on the Palestine problem without loss of dignity and without the possibility of starting another world war.

FRIGHT AND FULL EMPLOYMENT

During the war, a peacetime goal of 60,000,000 jobs seemed improbable, if not unattainable. But it was reached and now the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics says that that number of employed may be substantially increased this summer. The news has generally been received with "cautious optimism."

The prophets of gloom say that the bust after the boom is only delayed, and that it will be worse. Even the cheerful are a little fearful. They want to know how long it will last.

It would be comforting to have the answer. But the best that can be said now is that our mild inflation, while no better, is no worse. There has been some effort again to cut prices. And ECA Director Hoffman doesn't think that European aid will bring any severe shortages or rationing. So maybe the present good times aren't so fear-inspiring, after all.

A lot of forethought had planning have gone into the program for the School Health Institute to be held at the Court House at 1:15 p. m. Wednesday and Co-chairmen H. L. Blair and John Rossman are hoping every person in the borough and county interested in the health of community youth will be on hand for the discussion by state health and public instruction representatives.

The program announced for that National Music Week Concert to be presented at Beatty school at 7:30 this evening looks like a good bet for a very enjoyable affair. See you there.

two new amendments will become effective on Federal Housing Administration Property Improvement Loans (Title I, Class I and 2).

The first amendment requires that the borrower must pay a Cash Down Payment of at least 10% of the "Total Cost" of the proposed improvements.

The second amendment requires the dealer to furnish the lending institution a copy of the statement or sales contract agreement with the borrower showing (1) the type of improvements to be made, (2) the extent of the improvements, and (3) a description of the materials to be used. This statement is required only when the proceeds are paid to one other than the borrower, or to the borrower and another jointly.

The purpose of these amendments is to develop a sound Title I lending program and to combat inflation.

Therefore, on and after May 10th the Warren banks, together with all other financing agents of the United States, will put into effect these amendments on Title I F.H.A. Property Improvement Loans.

Second of Series of Stories On the Oleo-Butter Battle

(Editor's Note: This is the second of two stories on the fight over margarine.)

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington—(AP)—This is an ABC on the fight in congress over margarine and butter.

The average price of those two bread spreads is: Margarine, 42 cents a pound; butter, 94 cents a pound.

The higher butter prices go or stay, the more customers there are for the cheaper-priced margarine. Still, far more butter is sold.

Last year the sale was: Margarine, 745,000,000 pounds; butter 1,700,000,000. Those figures are from the national association of margarine manufacturers.

Butter is made of animal fats—cream from cows. This is the make-up of margarine: 15 per cent skimmed milk; 5 per cent salt and seasoning; 80 per cent vegetable fats—oil from soybeans, cottonseed, peanuts.

Margarine is sold on the market in two forms: Already colored yellow like butter, or plain white, with coloring attached for the housewife to mix to get the butter-yellow color.

About 90 per cent of all margarine eaten is the kind bought uncolored. The government tax on that is less than on the kind already colored yellow.

The butter-makers don't want to see yellow margarine sold on the market, if they can help it. They argue:

Unless yellow-colored margarine is labeled margarine, you, the housewife, can be fooled into thinking you're getting butter. The other side of that argument is:

If you began buying yellow-colored margarine and found not much difference between it and butter, you'd probably buy one as readily as the other.

And—the more margarine was sold, the more the butter-makers would suffer in the long run.

So it's been to the interest of the butter-makers—the manufacturers and the dairy farmers with the cream-giving cows—to see that margarine is sold under handicaps.

And for years its been sold under big handicaps that didn't apply to its competitor, butter.

And for years the margarine-makers—the manufacturers and the growers of those vegetables that go into margarine, like soybeans, cotton, peanuts—have been trying to get the handicaps removed.

So it's been one group of manufacturers and farmers against another. Until now the butter boys have been winning. Here are some of the handicaps on margarine:

Margarine manufacturers must pay a yearly federal license fee (tax) of $600, whether the margarine is colored or uncolored. Wholesalers must pay a yearly federal fee of $480 if they handle colored margarine, $200 if it's uncolored.

Retailers—neighborhood grocers—must pay a yearly federal fee of $48 to sell colored margarine, $6 to sell the uncolored kind. Then there's a federal tax of one-quarter of a cent a pound on uncolored margarine and 10 cents on the colored kind.

These taxes are more of a nuisance to the margarine people than they are a revenue-producer for

Program For Pulpwood In Nat'l Forest

A long-range timber thinning program in the half-million acre Allegheny National Forest will produce 1,500,000 cords of pulpwood at an estimated mill value of more than $22,500,000, it has been revealed by A. H. Anderson, forest supervisor with offices in Warren.

Mr. Anderson stated that the thinning operations are exclusive of other cutting projects announced through regular channels and will result in an average of about 12 cords per acre. Statements have been issued from the ANF offices which were prepared to give users of the pulpwood a picture of the project and invited responsible operators to study the timber character and operating conditions.

Areas within the Allegheny National Forest are located in parts of Warren, Forest, Elk and McKean counties with the forest roughly 37 by 43 miles. Boundaries of the forest embrace 740,000 acres of which 470,000 have been or are in the process of being acquired.

In many sections of the forest area the growth of the trees has developed to such an extent that the government. The government income from those federal fees and taxes was about $7,000,000 last year.

extensive thinning operations must be scheduled within the next 15 years. As in other cutting operations within the forest area, the thinning is essential to forest betterment. Trees to be cut are marked and the areas designated.

Most of the cuttings are available by the networks of the fire roads constructed during the period the Civilian Conservation Corps existed. Later the roads were continued by World War 1 veterans and through war years by Nazi prisoners.

Mr. Anderson stated that interested parties have been invited to investigate the proposal on the grounds and to discuss tentative terms of contract with the Forest Service at Warren before July 1.

In the statement prepared at the ANF offices special note is taken of the area covered by the proposed Kinzua flood control dam—listed as planned but "not yet finally approved."

In recent years Americans gave churches and welfare institutions little more than $1.50 out of every $100 of their expenditures—considerably less than they spent for either tobacco or alcoholic beverages.

Every person in Warren borough and county who is interested in the health of the community's youth is invited and urged to attend the School Health Institute which will convene in the county court house at 1:35 p. m. Wednesday.

H. L. Blair, county superintendent of schools, will open the session, and John G. Rossman, superintendent of Warren public school district, will direct the organization of the institute and extend the welcome.

Earnings Of Sylvania Show An Increase

Consolidated net income of Sylvania Electric Products Inc. for the first quarter of 1948 was $1,162,737, equal to $1.06 per share on the 1,006,550 shares of common stock outstanding after deducting dividends of $1.00 a share on the $4 cumulative preferred stock. This compares with consolidated net income of $805,342, equal to 70 cents a share on the common stock for the same quarter a year ago.

Consolidated net sales for the quarter ended March 31, 1948 were $24,547,526, an increase of 4 per cent over the $23,536,779 of sales for the first quarter of 1947. The demand for Sylvania products continues high, the aggregate volume of production of tungsten and fluorescent lamps, fluorescent lighting fixtures, radio receiving tubes, cathode ray tubes (the television picture tube), radio sets and photoflash lamps being at about the same level as in the fourth quarter of 1947.

Operating results at Colonial Radio Corp., beginning with February, were on a profitable basis, whereas this subsidiary operated at a loss in 1947. In addition to its profit from operations, there is included in Colonial's first quarter earnings a non-recurring net income of approximately $180,000 arising from a profit on the sale of its assembly plants at Bloomington, Illinois, and Riverside, California.

Wabash Corporation, which had an unprofitable operation in 1947, earned a profit throughout the first quarter of 1948. Present plans are to increase the production of this subsidiary still further as there continues to be a shortage of photoflash bulbs in the trade.

United States churches are housed in buildings valued at approximately three and one half billion dollars.

DURING THE NEXT few weeks we plan to flush the mains in the distribution system.

This is necessary from time to time in order to keep our service to you up to the high standard you expect.

It will take several weeks to complete the flushing program. While the work is being done in your neighborhood, your service will not be affected, but you may draw some rusty looking water for a short time. If it should persist be sure to let us know, so that the condition can be corrected.

Since Monday is washday in many families no flushing will be done on that day.

We hope you will be patient with us while this work is underway.

This time they discovered Cancer in time—and he'll be able to take her home.

They're performing many a miracle like this one in hospitals all over the country.

But the great miracle millions are praying for is that science will find a cure for all Cancer. Last year Cancer killed more than 188,000. Sooner or later it reaches, on the average, into every other home in America. It takes the young as quickly as the old—the rich as surely as the poor.

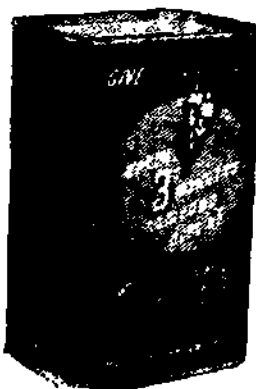

A cure is not too much to hope for. Keep science searching and it will find a cure.

So the next time you see a Cancer donation box, remember it's your chance to buy protection for your friends, your family or perhaps yourself.

Every time you give to the Cancer Fund you help someone live. Your dimes and dollars help buy more X-Ray and surgical equipment... support laboratory projects to study Cancer... help speed hundreds of scientists in the race to conquer Cancer.

About School Playgrounds

Every once in a while we get entangled in another argument over this school playground situation and firmly resolve we are going to look into the matter. School officials are continually being hounded to do something about youngsters overflowing the play areas onto adjacent properties—some of the complaints proving to be legitimate ones, while others are just plain silly.

While we were debating the matter, we ran across a bulletin sent out early this spring by John G. Rossman, school superintendent, in which he asked every principal to bring to her pupils the matter of cooperative use of the play spots. Principals Bathurst and Harris were also asked to speak to their pupils, since these older ones frequently make use of the grade school playgrounds. We quote 7-om said bulletin:

"My understanding of the board's policy is that those portions of the grounds to the rear of buildings may be used until twilight with the definite understanding that the group is not noisy, that there is no obscene talk, that there is no trespass over property adjacent to the school's property, and that such use in no sense becomes a nuisance to persons who realize that the school grounds are better play areas than are the streets and alleys."

"Complaints are registered at times as to conduct on these play grounds. The lawn at the front of the building is used and marred. Older persons drive the younger ones from the grounds. The groups loiter long after twilight. The play becomes so boisterous as to be intolerable. The property rights adjacent to the school grounds are not respected."

"The board of school directors has the right to close these grounds. It has preferred to have them used for the benefit of the young people of the community. In the last analysis the young people themselves must decide what the use or abuse is to be. All persons using the grounds are urged to cooperate in keeping within the program outlined and thus affording play space more satisfactory to all concerned."

That seems to present the case for the school board and teachers—and it seems from this angle the rest of the discussion involves just good old fashioned common sense. Parents have a responsibility in this question, also, and the $64 question for today is, "Have you taught your child to respect the property of others?"

Bob Dietsch With Allegheny Singers

Many in Warren and vicinity have already made plans to attend the sacred concert to be given in Epworth Methodist church in Jamestown next Sunday by the famous Allegheny Singers.

The hour is four o'clock and it will interest many to know that one of the choristers is Bob Dietsch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dietsch, North Warren, former member of the high school capella choir and popular soloist.

Founded in 1930 by Morten J. Luvaas, the Singers have been acclaimed by critics as one of the outstanding choral groups in the United States. Photographer Attacked in Free-for-All

As 800 persons jammed Philadelphia's 30th Street Station to see the return of David Almeida and James F. Smith, Jr., facing murder charges in last year's killing of Patrolman Cecil Ingling, a free-for-all fight broke out. Detective Richard Boyle, left with cigar, and another man attempt to rescue an unidentified news photographer, black coat, as he is attacked by one of Smith's relatives. Scores of persons standing by joined in the fight later but police broke it up before anyone was injured. The cameraman had tried to photograph Smith's mother as she leaned toward a police car to speak to her son.

1947 Home Run Kings Get Good Start Toward Repeats

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sportswriter

This may be a new baseball season, but major league pitchers are finding out, much to their sorrow, that Ralph Kiner, Johnny Mize and Ted Williams still pack that old home run wallop.

Each of the three home run kings of 1947 crashed four-baggers yesterday to lead their respective teams to important victories.

Kiner, whose 51 homers tied Mize for the National League championship, cracked two to pace the surprising Pirates to a 6-4 win over the Cincinnati Reds in Pittsburgh. Both were hit off Lanky Ewell Blackwell, the second coming with two men on base. They were his second and third of the season.

The victory was Pittsburgh's eighth against four defeats and enabled the pace-setting Pirates to retain their half-game lead over the New York Giants in the National League. The second half of the scheduled twin-bill was postponed by rain.

Mize slammed a home run with one man aboard to break a 1-1 tie and inaugurate a four-run sixth inning as the Giants went on to defeat the Boston Braves, 5-1, in New York.

It was the slugging first baseman's third home run of the year and helped Larry Jansen gain his second triumph against one loss.

Williams was the whole works in the 7-1 Red Sox triumph over the New York Yankees in Boston. Thumpin' Ted, who paced the American League with 32 home runs last year, tripled in the first inning off right-hander Karl Drews to drive in two runs. He banged his fourth home run of the season in the eighth off Left-hander Joe Page with two mates aboard for a day's total of five runs batted in. Ted now leads the American League with 14 runs batted in.

The rebounding Detroit Tigers handed the Indians their second straight defeat before 57,450 fans in Cleveland, 4-2.

Triple Crown May Be Near For Arcaro

Louisville, May 2 (AP)—The "rock-em-and-sock-em" combination of Kentucky Derby record smasher, Calumet Farm's Citation and Jockey Eddie Arcaro, set dead aim today on a few more marks in their quest for the coveted triple crown—America's diadem of three-year-old racing supremacy.

While old Louisville slowly returned to normal after Citation and Arcaro showed how a horse race should be run Saturday, all eyes were turned on the approaching Preakness and Belmont stakes.

Usually the Preakness, to be run at Pimlico in Baltimore May 15, comes one week after the Derby but there'll be no hustle and bustle to the railroad car and the trip to Maryland this time. The trainers can bide their time, and speculate on the apparent futility of challenging Citation and his nifty-stepping stablemate, Coaltown.

The Belmont stakes at New York follows June 12, and completes the triple crown lineup.

Arcaro could be the first jockey ever to ride two triple crown colts. Only seven horses have been able to grab the elusive triple since the first derby was run in 1875. Calumet's Whirlaway and Eddie himself did the job once in 1941.

Spring is here—12 months a year

It's always Spring where barley starts on its way to becoming malt in the Home of Budweiser. Spring-like conditions are necessary in order to make the kind of barley malt required by the most expensive brewing process known to America. So, by forcing air through a man-made rainstorm, we create a warm, moist atmosphere that coaxes the barley to sprout, the first big step in malting. This then is followed by many painstaking steps that in the end bring you the distinctive taste and elusive bouquet found only in Budweiser.

1947 Home Run Kings Get Good Start Toward Repeats

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sportswriter

This may be a new baseball season, but major league pitchers are finding out, much to their sorrow, that Ralph Kiner, Johnny Mize and Ted Williams still pack that old home run wallop.

Each of the three home run kings of 1947 crashed four-baggers yesterday to lead their respective teams to important victories.

Kiner, whose 51 homers tied Mize for the National League championship, cracked two to pace the surprising Pirates to a 6-4 win over the Cincinnati Reds in Pittsburgh. Both were hit off Lanky Ewell Blackwell, the second coming with two men on base. They were his second and third of the season.

The victory was Pittsburgh's eighth against four defeats and enabled the pace-setting Pirates to retain their half-game lead over the New York Giants in the National League. The second half of the scheduled twin-bill was postponed by rain.

Mize slammed a home run with one man aboard to break a 1-1 tie and inaugurate a four-run sixth inning as the Giants went on to defeat the Boston Braves, 5-1, in New York.

It was the slugging first baseman's third home run of the year and helped Larry Jansen gain his second triumph against one loss.

Williams was the whole works in the 7-1 Red Sox triumph over the New York Yankees in Boston. Thumpin' Ted, who paced the American League with 32 home runs last year, tripled in the first inning off righthander Karl Drews to drive in two runs. He banged his fourth home run of the season in the eighth off Lefthander Joe Page with two mates aboard for a day's total of five runs batted in. Ted now leads the American League with 14 runs batted in.

The rebounding Detroit Tigers handed the Indians their second straight defeat before 57,450 fans in Cleveland, 4-2.

Spring is here—12 months a year

It's always Spring where barley starts on its way to becoming malt in the Home of Budweiser. Spring-like conditions are necessary in order to make the kind of barley malt required by the most expensive brewing process known to America. So, by forcing air through a man-made rainstorm, we create a warm, moist atmosphere that coaxes the barley to sprout, the first big step in malting. This then is followed by many painstaking steps that in the end bring you the distinctive taste and elusive bouquet found only in Budweiser.

Ray, who said he had an "off day" Saturday, placed fifth in the meet.

The eight high men in the gymnastics division will represent the United States in the international games in England.

A crowd of more than 6,000 was on hand to see the performance of some 100 of the gymnasts in the nation.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of Gale Eugene French who was killed one year ago today, May 3, 1947. Surrounded by friends, we are lonesome.

In the midst of our pleasures we are blue.

A smile on our face, still a heart-ache,

Lonesome and grieving for you. Dear Gene, we miss you sadly, And find the time long since you went.

And we think of you daily and hourly,

And try to be brave and content, But the tears we have shed in silence.

And we breathe a sigh of regret, For you were ours, Gene, Dear, And we will remember you as you were.

When all the world forgets. Sadly missed by wife, Mom and Dad, Brothers and Sisters.

HAUNTED HOLIDAY

By Cameron Dockery

Chapter 7)

THE completely inert thing that had once been Simeon Mannley, lay on the polar bear rug in the game room. The flamboyant purple pattern of his pajamas made the blood stain almost undiscernable but his pale eyes were wide open staring at the ceiling in mild bewilderment.

Dr. Palmer's thin restless fingers merely confirmed what Vince already knew. "He's dead — stabbed, about four hours ago," Palmer said slowly.

Vince reached for a cigarette. "When did you find him Luki?"

"I did not find him sir, Bernie did." The Hawaiian pointed to a corner of the room where a frightened overall-clad youth shrank from their stares.

Vince eyed him casually, guessing that he was about seventeen and a farm hand judging from his clothes. "Who are you? Tell us about it."

The boy's voice was truculent, resentful. "I'm Bernie Oland."

It was evident he wouldn't be cooperative and Luki volunteered to help out. "The Olands have a farm, sir. Bernie and his father take care of the lawn and flowers at Kalamati and Bernie comes every morning to clean out the fireplaces and lay fresh wood in them."

"I come into the big room first," Bernie suddenly found his tongue, "an' lay fresh wood, then I come in here and see him." He nodded at the body. "When I call him he don't answer so I go around to the kitchen. I hear noises up above but it turns out to be Luki. His voice rose and fell in the undulating rhythm of Scandinavian.

"Mr. Mannley was not expecting Mr. and Mrs. Donovan, sir," explained the Hawaiian, "so he gave them my room and I took Kim's — he is the cook."

The Donovans again. Vince pondered. What part was that strange little couple playing in all of this? He turned to Dr. Palmer who was nervously fidgeting with his moustache. "I suppose we'd better call the police immediately."

"The police?"

The medical man was obviously horrified at the idea. Vince shrugged.

"I know how you feel Doctor, but I'm afraid we have no alternative."

"Of course, that's what we must do." The words left Palmer's lips with obvious reluctance. "This will be a dreadful shock to Sophie and Julia."

"Did I hear my name taken in vain?"

They all turned. Julia was silhouetted in the door leading from the terrace; dressed in a seersucker playsuit she looked not more than fifteen. A sudden feeling of protectiveness seized Vince.

"Don't come in here."

"What is this — a stag party?"

He knew then that she hadn't seen her uncle's sprawling shape; he took her shoulders firmly, turning her away from the room. "Julia, Mr. Mannley is dead. It looks like an accident of some sort."

Her tanned hands clamped over her mouth. "Oh no, Vince, not!"

His fingers tightened until he realized he must be hurting her. Don't worry, it won't be so bad. I'll look out for you, he wanted to say, but instead he gave her a determined shake. "We're going to need your help."

Her eyes were wide, uncomprehending. "What can I do?"

"We'll have to notify the authorities first. Where is the phone?"

"There isn't one."

"What?" The idea of a big estate not having a phone was incredible.

"There isn't one," Julia repeated. "There's no demand for a phone among the summer residents around here and Uncle didn't want the expense of putting in a private wire. A roadside store four miles away is the nearest one."

VINCE leaned inside the door looking at Dr. Palmer. The medical man seemed to be in a blue funk, his eyes wandered vaguely around the room and his fingers had again resumed their peculiar pill-rolling motion that Vince had observed the night before. The naval officer squared his shoulders.

"Luki, wake the others. Tell them to dress and meet in the living room but don't tell them why. Bernie, you go in there and wait for them. Now let's all go into the hall."

After ushering them ahead of him, still shielding Julia from the form on the floor he turned to the Hawaiian again. "No one is to go into that room until the police arrive and take over, understand that Luki?"

As soon as Vince had dressed and joined Julia in the roadster, she slipped it into gear and they began the long ascent to the main road.

"Here we are," Julia stopped precipitously throwing them both forward. They plunged into the small country store, startling the proprietor who was haggling over a basket of eggs with an old lady. When she saw Julia's bare legs her eyebrows rose at least an inch. Vince headed for the phone.

"I want to get the police," he said into the goose-necked mouthpiece.

The conversation at the counter died.

He could feel the silence. Julia tense and still with shock and the other two dumb with curiosity. He tried to speak softly, to wrap some thin coating of privacy around the words he was going to have to say, but he knew it was hopeless. Though the connection was poor, already he had heard the surreptitious lifting of receivers that indicated a party line. He had to enunciate each syllable slowly and loudly.

"This is Commander Vince Bonnay. I am a guest at the Mannley estate on Hood Canal. I wish to report a death there."

"A what?" a thin voice said disinterestedly at the other end. "A death. D-E-A-T-H." Vince repeated.

"That so?" the unknown voice asked. "Who?"

"The owner — Simeon Mannley."

The other voice brightened considerably. "Very interesting. But think you want to contact a funeral parlor. Why did you call the police?"

"Because," Vince said, glad he couldn't see Julia's eyes, "it looks like murder."

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Gale Eugene French who was killed one year ago today, May 3, 1947. Surrounded by friends, we are lonely, In the midst of our pleasures we are blue, A smile on our face, still a heart-ache,

Lonesome and grieving for you, Dear Gene, we miss you sadly, And find the time long since you went.

And we think of you daily and hourly, And try to be brave and content, But the tears we have shed in silence,

And we breathe a sigh of regret, For you were ours, Gene, Dear, And we will remember your as you were

When all the world forgets, Sadly missed by wife, Mom and Dad, Brothers and Sisters.

HAUNTED HOLIDAY

By Cameron Dockery

Chapter 7)

THE completely inert thing that had once been Simeon Mannley, lay on the polar bear rug in the game room. The flamboyant purple pattern of his pajamas made the blood stain almost undiscernable but his pale eyes were wide open staring at the ceiling in mild bewilderment.

Dr. Palmer's thin restless fingers merely confirmed what Vince already knew. "He's dead — stabbed, about four hours ago," Palmer said slowly.

Vince reached for a cigarette. "When did you find him Luki?"

"I did not find him sir, Bernie did." The Hawaiian pointed to a corner of the room where a frightened overall-clad youth shrank from their stares.

Vince eyed him casually, guessing that he was about seventeen and a farm hand judging from his clothes. "Who are you? Tell us about it."

The boy's voice was truculent, resentful. "I'm Bernie Oland."

It was evident he wouldn't be cooperative and Luki volunteered to help out. "The Olands have a farm, sir. Bernie and his father take care of the lawn and flowers at Kalani and Bernie comes every morning to clean out the fireplaces, and lay fresh wood in them."

"I come into the big room first," Bernie suddenly found his tongue. "an' lay fresh wood, then I come in here and see him." He nodded at the body. "When I call him he don't answer so I go around to the an' I think it's Lin, the Chinese, but it turns out he's in the undulating rhythm of Scandinavian."

"Mr. Mannley was not expecting Mr. and Mrs. Donovan, sir," explained the Hawaiian, "so he gave them my room and I took Kim—he is the cook."

The Donovans again, Vince pondered. What part was that strange little couple playing in all of this? He turned to Dr. Palmer who was nervously fingering his moustache. "I suppose we'd better call the police immediately."

"The police!"

The medical man was obviously horrified at the idea. Vince shrugged—

"I know how you feel Doctor, but I'm afraid we have no alternative."

"Of course, that's what we must do." The words left Palmer's lips with obvious reluctance. "This will be a dreadful shock to Sophie and Julia."

"Did I hear my name taken in vain?"

They all turned. Julia was silhouetted in the door leading from the terrace; dressed in a seersucker playsuit she looked not more than fifteen. A sudden feeling of protectiveness seized Vince. He went toward her.

"Don't come in Julia."

She was startled then amused. "What is this—a stag party?"

He knew then that she hadn't seen her uncle's sprawling shape; he took her shoulders firmly, turning her away from the room. "Julia, Mr. Mannley is dead. It looks like an accident of some sort."

Her tanned hands clamped over her mouth. "Oh no, Vince, no!" His fingers tightened until he realized he must be hurting her. Don't worry, it won't be so bad. I'll look out for you, he wanted to say, but instead he gave her a determined shake. "We're going to need your help."

Her eyes were wide, uncomprehending. "What can I do?"

"We'll have to notify the authorities first. Where is the phone?"

"There isn't one."

"What!" The idea of a big estate not having a phone was incredible.

"There isn't one," Julia repeated. "There's no demand for a phone around here and Uncle didn't want the expense of putting in a private wire. A roadside store four miles away is the nearest one."

VINCE leaned into the door looking at Dr. Palmer. The medical man seemed to be in a blue funk; his eyes wandered vaguely around the room and his fingers had again resumed their peculiar pill-rolling motion that Vince had observed the night before. The naval officer squared his shoulders.

"Luki, wake the others. Tell them to dress and get the living room but don't tell them why. Bernie, you go in there and wait for them. Now let's all go into the hall."

After ushering them ahead of him, still shielding Julia from the form on the floor he turned to the Hawaiian again. "No one is to go into that room until the police arrive and take over, understand that Luki?"

As soon as Vince had dressed and joined Julia in the roadster, she slipped it into gear and they began the long ascent to the main road.

"Here we are," Julia stopped precipitously throwing them both forward. They plunged into the small country store, startling the proprietor who was haggling over a basket of eggs with an old lady. When she saw Julia's bare legs her eyebrows rose at least an inch. Vince headed for the phone.

"I want to get the police," he said into the goose-necked mouthpiece.

The conversation at the counter died.

He could feel the silence. Julia tense and still with shock and the other two dumb with curiosity. He tried to speak softly, to wrap some thin coating of privacy around the words he was going to have to say, but he knew it was hopeless. Though the connection was poor, already he had heard the surreptitious lifting of receivers that indicated a party line. He had to enunciate each syllable slowly and loudly.

"This is Commander Vince Bonney . . . I am a guest at the Mannley estate on Hood Canal . . . I wish to report a death there."

"A what?" a thin voice said disinterestedly at the other end.

"A death. D-E-A-T-H." Vince repeated.

"That so?" the unknown voice asked. "Who?"

"The owner—Simeon Mannley."

The other voice brightened considerably. "Very interesting. But think you want to contact a funeral parlor? Why did you call the police?"

"Because," Vince said, glad he couldn't see Julia's eyes, "It looks like murder."
